Dear Russell,

Reur 12/3, when you refer to "at that stage" and the possibility that ONI was running Oswald, you are feferring to him in Mexico City.

I have never given "that stage" any special thought but I have always believed that there has to have been a reason important to the ONI for it never to have made any real investigation, either when LHO went abroad or on his return or at the time of the assassination and for removing from all records any reference to the high security clearance he did have.

That the Mexico City CIA people knew nothing about Oswald does not have, I think, any special meaning, without their having some need to know.

After his playing off of what he knew was a fake I'll pay no attention to anything Jack White says.

But what he says in this instance makes no sense at all.

Best,

Harold
